Course Introduction

Three Years International Programme in Fine Arts allows students to progress from a foundation to a professional level in various steps with a mix of guided and studio based self-learning approach. The EDEXCEL curriculum focuses on individual student development through mentored, research & exploratory learning. It also gives students the opportunity to continue further education at European Art Schools by transferring credits to succeeding years.

In Year One, students are introduced to modules focusing on creative thinking, ideas generation and contextual studies along with core skill based modules in Painting, Printmaking, Digital Art, Sculpting, Mixed Media & other art forms.

In Year Two students continue to develop both creative and technical skills in art and further investigate the wider social and cultural impact on Art. Students also start to develop their personal fine art identity and focus on professional practice and development. Students are continuously exposed to site-specific art, engagement with art exhibitions and showcasing of their works at a professional level. Key focus is given on developing the fine art identity of the artist and a portfolio of the artist's works.

Year Three in INDIA

Students wishing to pursue the third year in India have the opportunity to pursue a final year with BA Painting or BA in Visual Communication through an Online Distance Learning qualification honored by an UK University, delivered and mentored at FAD International India. Students work towards a self-proposed project in their area of specialization combining all the skills acquired during the first two years. Students also have an opportunity to undertake a professional showcase as an artist to further provide progression to varied careers in an international environment.

Year Three in UK

In Year Three students have an option to continue their education at a range of UK Universities, subject to their portfolio being accepted, and having successfully completed the HND in Fine Arts. Students are assisted by the UK Admissions office at FAD International and also have a chance to meet with representatives from various universities to seek further information on campus during their first two years.
